SOVIET GRAIN EMBARGO CONTINUES COLLAPSE...

Recent announcement by Canadian Wheat Board Minister Hazen Argue that his country had decided to withdraw from the Carter Grain Embargo against Russia was another evidence of how ineffective this move has been. It was at the same time a most powerful argument for free markets and markets free of political bias. Other nations in trying to assist the United States on this matter soon found that international trade is a world all to itself and as the world stands today no one country can command the economic power to build bridges that are not built of holes even before they are set up.

It has been common knowledge that grain from the Western Countries was held in Eastern Europe and were then...

Decision Based on Threatened Shortages Of Meat Counter-Productive, Could Lead to Worse Situation, Up Prices

Denver, Nov. 26 - The National Cattlemen's Assn. today voiced strong opposition to the Administration plans to suspend limits on meat imports in 1981. The NCA statement followed a government estimate of 1981 imports and an announcement of plans to suspend quotas and not negotiate import restraints with the exporting nations.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has now estimated that, without controls, imports subject to the Meat Import Law would total 1,468 million pounds in 1981. This is 11 million pounds more than the import law, with its counter-cyclical quota formula, would normally permit next year.

Claiming that the total meat supply in 1981 will be inadequate, the Administration said it intended to suspend the import quotas which apply to beef and veal. By law, the Administration must make a decision on 1981 meat import restrictions by Jan. 1.

Merlyn Carlson, NCA president, strongly criticized the Carter administration's action, and he pointed out that, as in past cases like this, the action actually could be counterproductive and hurt the public as well as cattlemen.

Carlson said, "First, it should be recognized that, because of rapidly escalating costs as well as lower cattle

NCA Survey Suggests Positive Approach to Futures Market Use

Denver - The National Cattlemen's Assn. should take a positive rather than a negative approach in dealing with the results of a futures market survey among association members.

The survey confirmed that many members believe the industry would be more sound economically without futures markets. However, with the futures a fact of life, a majority believes that NCA's major role should be to work for improvement of the futures contract and help members use the markets more effectively.

In response to a directive from the membership at the last convention, NCA conducted a survey, through NCA's Beef Business Bulletin, among all members.

A substantial number of members responded to the survey, which was sponsored by the Marketing Committee, and the survey findings are considered valid by NCA's Council of Economic Advisors.

The results of the survey and the recommendations of a marketing subcommittee on cattle futures were presented to the NCA board of directors at a recent meeting. The recommendations will now go to the Marketing Committee and to the members at the 1981 convention.

After reviewing the extensive survey results, the marketing subcommittee concluded and recommended:

1. NCA should not pursue discontinuance of cattle futures trading. A positive approach toward improvement in and use of the markets should be taken.
2. NCA should not change its present policies on futures markets.
3. NCA should pursue the following action program:
 - a. Educational — Conduct objective educational seminars on futures trading and operation of the exchanges; provide members and other cattlemen with information on futures trading — through such means as the Beef Business Bulletin, affiliated associations, magazines and other farm and trade media.
 - b. NCA should work for contract and other changes — including development of a delivery certificate; changes in both the live cattle and feeder cattle contracts; and changes in the delivery system and delivery points. NCA also should determine the feasibility of beef (head and carcass) contracts.
 - c. Modify the rules to regard to: (1) trade limits; (2) regulating the activities of large traders; (3) surveillance of the markets.

Genetic Profiles Announces A Series Of Seminars On EVALUATING CATTLE BY MEASURING

A revolutionary new method of evaluating and selecting cattle through dimensional measurements is making news throughout the industry. It is based on research carried out by Dr. Jim Bomsma, the renowned South African animal scientist, and colleagues in this country. The measurement system works and is going to change the cattle industry as we know it.

Genetic Profiles has developed this advanced method for cattlemen to measure and accurately evaluate their cattle through computer and video technology. Because of the tremendous interest in the "measuring" method, the people at Genetic Profiles are offering a series of Measurement Seminars throughout the United States to acquaint cattlemen with this unique evaluation tool. Cuaranta Hosts Largest Beefmaster Field Day

More than 400 cattlemen from Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana helped make Cuaranta Ranch's first field day one of the most successful in Beefmaster history. The field day, co-sponsored by Cuaranta Ranch and Beefmaster Breeders Universal, was held at Cuaranta's headquarters near Muldoon, Texas.

Beefmaster Bulls Are Making More Money In Commercial Herds. Are You Building Your Herd This Way?

Mutual dependency. The purebred breeder and the commercial cowman. One's survival depends on the other. Serious Beefmaster breeders know the short and long of it — their future and that of Beefmasters will be determined by the commercial industry; and commercial bull sales make up most of their yearly incomes.

Not surprisingly, these concerned breeders are producing Beefmaster bulls that make more money for the commercial producer. It's the only way they can survive. And because they do have top performing BBU-certified Beefmaster bulls, they can help the commercial cowman survive.

Beefmasters got to the top because of popular, commercial demand. So long as Beefmasters make more money for the commercial industry, they will remain on top.

A lot of serious breeders intend to keep it that way. Visit one of these breeders — or attend a BBU-member commercial bull sale. You'll like your choices.

Beefmasters are a proven way to help survive the Eighties.

owned by Mr. and Mrs. Don Mullins and managed by George Davis. The large enthusiastic crowd was indicative of the growing popularity and demand for Beefmaster cattle. Many commercial cattlemen, interested in using Beefmaster bulls for crossbreeding, attended the field day.

Mullins and Davis welcomed the crowd and presented an overview of Cuarenta's breeding and management program. The use of improved pastures, single sire breeding, artificial insemination, and strict production records are included in Cuarenta's modern, progressive management program. Much of the ranch's cow herd goes back to the popular Lonsator, Galloway and D-3 breeding. "Amigo", one of the top polled bulls in the breed, and "G.G.", a Galloway-bred bull, are the senior herd

Barfield Sets January Beefmaster Sale

Fred Barfield Farms' "Sixth Edition" Beefmaster Sale, Part I, is set for January 26, 1981. The sale will be held at Barfield's purchase headquarters north of Immokalee, Florida, starting at 10 A.M. Gerald Bowie will be auctioneer.

The sale features a combination of at least four aged proven herd sires; four, three year old herd sires; several yearling herd sire prospects; and 25 breeding sows commercial bulls. The sale also features about 35 female lots including pairs, bred and open females.

A tremendous young half-brother to the record-setting "Warrior III" bull will lead off the sale. The bull, which will be 18 months old at sale time, is bred almost identically to "Warrior III" — a grandson of "Crimson Warrior" sired by "Robert E. Lee." Many experienced Beefmaster breeders rank this "spot side" "Warrior" grandson in the same class to quality and performance, with "Warrior III," the young bull which sold for $400,000 for half interest at Barfield's last sale.

The pairs and bred females carry the breeding and influence of "Legacy," "Ben," "Red Cloud" and other proven sires. Two open daughters of "Robert E. Lee" will sell.

The aged bull offering includes four top proven breeding bulls — "Big Tom," a Lasater-bred bull which has sired some of the top producing cattle in the Barfield herd; "War Paint," a top performing Circle Dot bred bull; "Barfield's Breeze," sire of "Red Cloud" and other top performing cattle; and "Colorado Red," another high performing Lasater-bred bull.

The three year old bulls include some of "Gator," "War Paint," and "Big Tom." They are supported with individual records of performance and progeny performances.

The commercial offering includes breeding age bulls from the best performing group of bulls ever gain-tested at Fred Barfield Farms.

Headquarters for the sale is the Roadway Inn, Ft. Myers, Florida. For more information or reservations, call or write Fred Barfield Farms, P. O. Drawer D, Immokalee, Florida 33934, (813) 667-3611.

Stuph & Thangs

ent to Russia. Our friends and neighbors in South America never did while the scribble to this embargo and while European Common Market was supposedly cooperating, there have been doubts. France in particular has been howling about their surplus wheat and wanting to ship it East.

Just this week the news broke about a sale of some 200,000 metric tons of what, some 7,880,000 bushels, from Spain to the Soviet Union. Ironically this was handled by an outfit called Continental Hispanica, a subsidiary of U.S. based Continental Grain. Rumors are that a subsidiary of the Louis Dreyfus Corp., of Stamford, Conn., is angling for 100,000 tons of wheat from the Spanish grain monopoly also destined for the Soviet Union. Both these international grain traders reportedly had previous made out runs around the grain embargo through subsidiaries in Argentina.

There are a lot of people who will have a lot of harsh words for those grain firms. However that develops, it is a good idea to keep in mind they are not the only firms in this grain trade and many of the biggies are in no way attached to the United States.

Canada is officially announcing its withdrawal from the embargo said to have two principal reasons. First their export business was dragging. It takes no feat of memory to recall a few years ago when Canada had wheat stacked on the ground and running out their ears and the Government was catching hell from their farmers around the clock. Another reason Canada gives is U.S. sales to other countries, notably China, which has been one of Canada's best customers over the years.

All of this is just one very small example of how complicated world trade is and can get. It also points to the way toward permanent loss of export markets for the U.S. For instance, our good friends in France, Italy and Great Britain are scurrying around filling orders for technology, and Africa and the Middle East and Japan is also hornin' in on these things.

Openings in many cases have been supplied by U.S. cutouts of these things.

It isn't hard to outsmart yourself in international affairs, and we hope the worst of this will be behind us right away.

Ever thine,
The Editor.

P.S.: Uncle Dunk notes where USDA's Carol Tucker Foreman told the recent Ag Outlook Conference that "people want a smaller federal establishment." Also, "private profit making enterprises could sensibly take over market news and meat grading functions, currently the responsibility of the government." Proves without doubt Carol ain't all that dumb, just another private enterprise should look over market news, this would eliminate politics from this vital information, and it's news would be forthcoming every market day and not only on those days.

Gov't Bureaucrats decide not to shut up shop for a holiday. Dunk figures there ain't any Democrat appointee one whit as upset as Ralph Nader who had followers planned to march through the Administration. He ain't lost a job, he's just a natural born loser, like that fellow James Roberts of the Andrews County News told about. He has a very hectoring dry and in comes a lady's husband about ready to whip somebody and come to find out he was mad about what the pharmacist said to his wife and wanted to know why he said it. The pharmacist said, "well, she's a harried pharmacist's wife," well, she asked me how use a rectal thermometer, and I just told her."

Move round bales as gently as hydraulics without leaving your pickup seat!

Don't Damage Your Roof!

When you get moisture under the roof of the bale, it can't dry out and this spoils the hay. The Priefert Bale Buggy never touches the roof, never drops or rolls the bale. With no bale damage, there's seldom bale spoilage.

The Priefert Bale Buggy hooks to your pickup or tractor with only a simple pin hitch and trip rope. Because brakes are not required, the Bale Buggy works well in bad ground conditions. The simplicity of the Priefert bale mover will amaze you and assure you of a long, productive life for this unit. Write or phone for literature and dealer nearest you.

Meat Imports

caused inflation as well as smaller supplies of other meats. Yet, the Administration has chosen, in an obviously political move as it goes out of office, to make cattlemen bear the brunt of food price problems.

"We are very disappointed that the Administration has now elected to ignore the spirit of the number-cyclical import provisions and go ahead with a needless and counter-productive move to suspend quotas."

The estimated 1981 import total will be only slightly greater than the 1980 import total which was well below the quota-triggering point under the law, but the suspension announcement is "just exactly the kind of move the cattle industry does not need at this time," Carlson said.

NCA met recently with Administration officials to recommend that the President negotiate a voluntary restraint program for 1981. However, Carlson said, the Administration has now chosen to ignore that advice.

Under the import law as amended in 1970, the President has those options when the USDA import estimate exceeds the law's quota-triggering point. He may go ahead and impose quotas; he may negotiate voluntary import restraints; or he may suspend quotas. However, before suspending quotas, the President must, under the new law, announce his intent to suspend, and 30 days must be allowed for comment. NCA, of course, will comment on the proposal, Carlson said.

Texas Sheep & Lambs on Feed

Sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter on November 1, 1980 totaled 180,000, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 88 percent above a year ago. Sheep and lambs on feed for slaughter consisted of those being fattened in a drylot or on pasture and are expected to produce a carcass that will grade good or better. Placements in drylots and pastures during September and October totaled 120,000, up 14 percent from the same period in 1979.

Of the 180,000 on feed, 133,000 are in drylots with a capacity of 2,000 or more. Sheep on feed in drylots are up 82 percent from a year ago. Placements into drylots during October totaled 64,000 head and marketings were 62,000 head, 88 percent above a year ago.

Hereford Breeders Elect David Largent Incoming President

Kansas City — David Largent, Willsall, Mo., was elected president of the American Hereford Association during the organization's annual meeting. Largent was elevated to the post from the position of senior vice president and he succeeds Gene Schroeder, Palisade, Mo., at the helm of the world's largest beef breed record association.

The Largent name has been a familiar one in the Hereford industry for 80 years. His grandfather entered the registered Hereford business in 1901 and was one of the first Hereford breeders in Texas to exhibit his Herefords nationally. David's father, Roy, was a nationally known breeder, exhibitor and livestock judge, and served as president of the American Hereford Association in 1952.

Elevated to the post of senior vice president of the American Hereford Association was John R. Howarth, Cleveland, Mo. Howarth operates the Circle H Farm where registered Hereford cattle, cotton, soybeans, wheat and rice are all parts of an extensive crop and livestock operation. Newly elected to serve on the board of directors was Gino Pedretti, El Nido, Ca. He succeeds Bob Kunde, Glen Elton, Ca.

Re-elected to serve on the board of directors for another three-year term were Howarth and Jack Vanier.

V BAR RANCH HEREFORD MATURE COW DISPERSION

V—
V Bar Ranch
Rt. 1, Box 106 • Stanton, TX 79782
Phone 915/458-3370

Dear Friends,

It is with much regret that we find it necessary to sell our mature cow herd. We have lost the lease on a portion of our land, and the decision to sell was made solely because of the lack of room on the ranch for the numbers we currently have.

We are going to continue in the registered Hereford business, and therefore, are going to keep all of our 1978 and younger females. We feel blessed to be associated with the fine people in the Hereford industry, and with this set of heifers that we are keeping, we will be able to continue to be a part of the industry.

We have been well pleased over the years with the results of our breeding program, and it is our wish that the cattle from this cow herd dispersion will produce a significant result for their buyers. We feel that this is an opportunity for you to select foundation females from reputation Hereford families, selected and vigorously culled over the years for high performance in all traits.

We look forward to seeing you on December 12. If there is anything that we at the ranch can do to assist you before or during the sale, please don't hesitate to call on us.

Sincerely,
Mary Sale
